

Where to Get Books

Just a few notes.....

Where to get kids books for low or no cost?

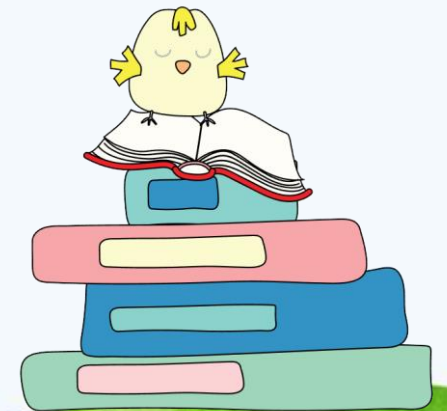

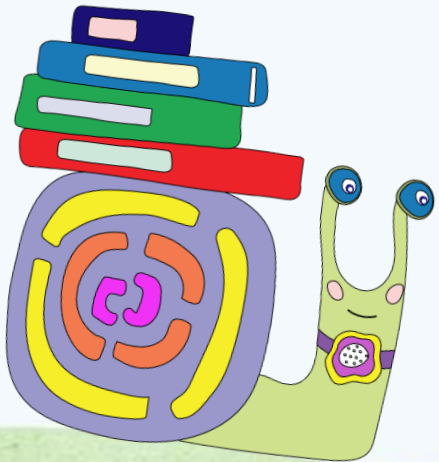

- While owning your own books is pretty fun, it's also expensive and our goal isn't to get you to spend more money buying books, it's to get you reading with your birds! So here are some suggestions for free or cheap books!
- Local Library
- Buy Books at discount
- Online Books

Local Library

- Check out your local library first as it has the biggest selection of kid's books.
- Many library systems are also part of a larger lending library system and provide access to online services such as Hoopla and Overdrive. These just require you to have a library card!

Buy Books

- You can certainly purchase books online at full price from major retailers like Amazon, Barnes & Noble, etc., but there are also discounted books sellers that offer deep discounts on used books with low to no shipping.
 - kidsbooks.com
 - thriftbooks.com
 - AbeBooks.com
 - BetterWorldBooks.com
 - Powells.com
 - eBay.com
- Large warehouse clubs like Costco and Sam's Club may also have kid's books.
- Check your local community for Thrift Stores who also sell used books.
- Facebook Marketplace and Local Book Swap groups.

Free Books Online

Through your local library, you probably have access to at least one of these online book resources. In fact, Hoopla and Overdrive are probably the most popular services offered by your library.
