

Dinosaur Name Crafts

These versatile name crafts can be a great intro and decoration for Dinosaur Week! If you are working with sight words or letters of the alphabet, names are a great way to integrate with this theme.

Name-a-Saur

1. Print out the baby dinosaur on light colored paper or cardstock.
2. Cut out the baby dino.
3. Use a marker to write your bird's name on the dinosaur's belly.

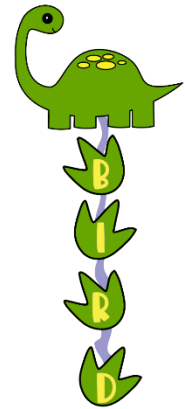

Dinosaur Footprint Banner (based on idea from Sandbox Academy)

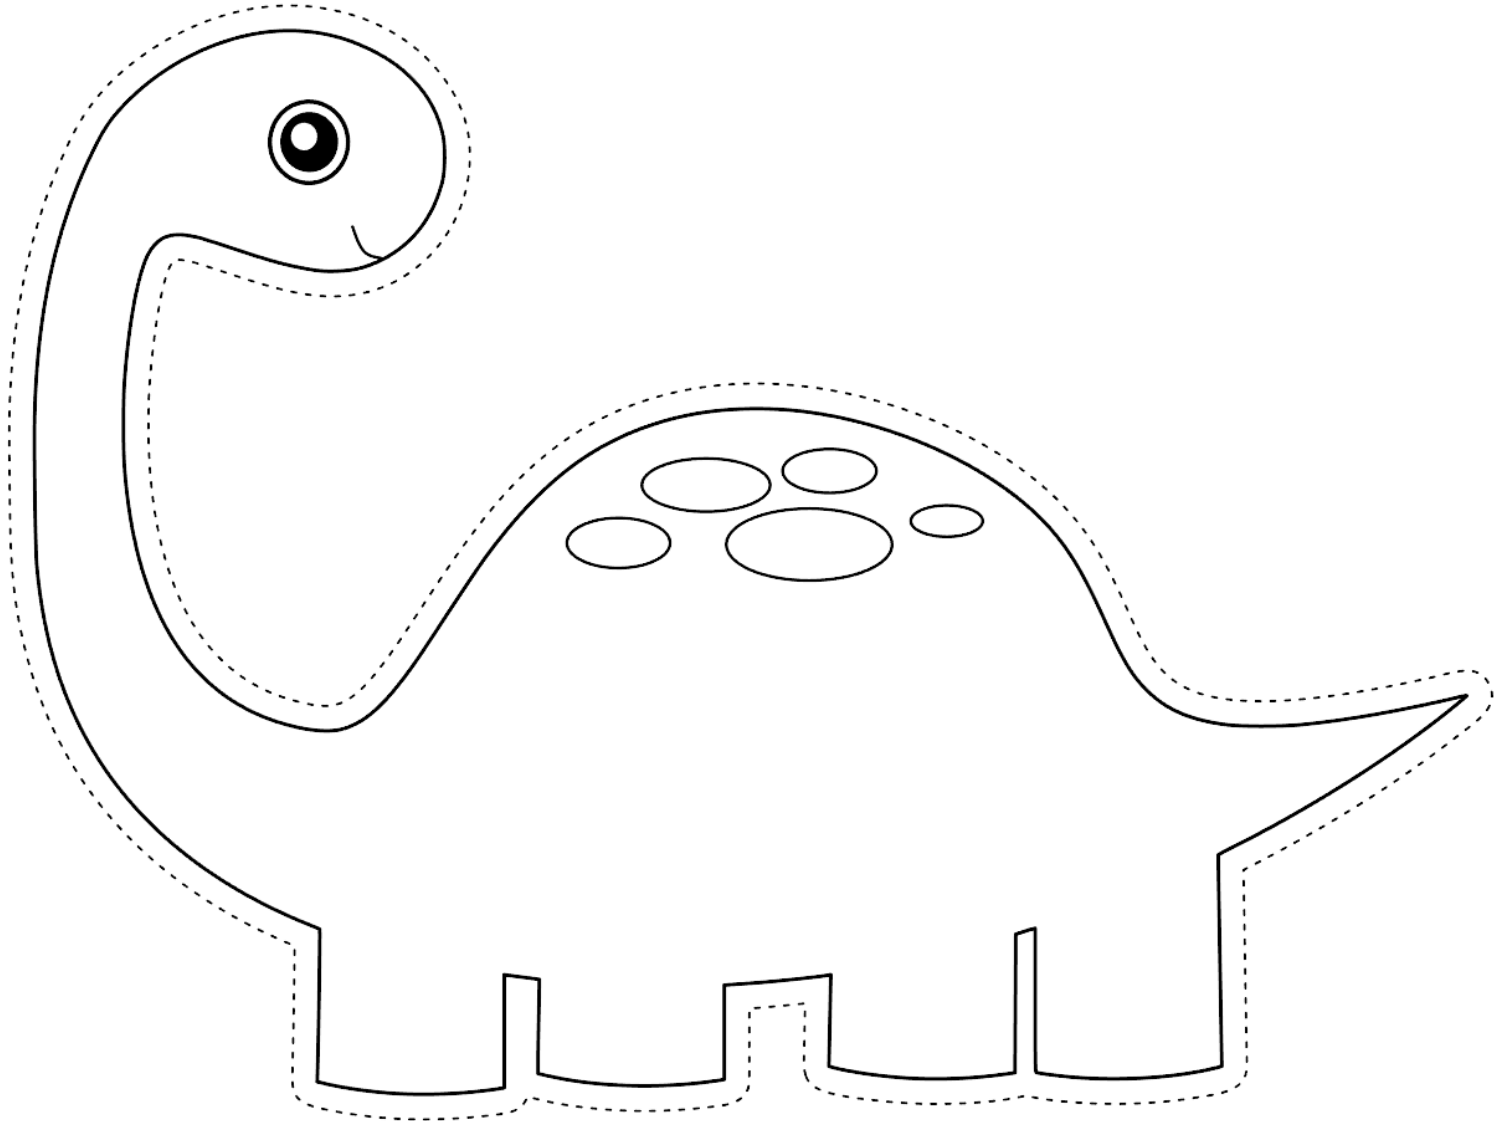

1. Print out one Dino Footprint for each letter of your bird's name on light-colored paper or cardstock.
2. Cut out the Footprints and write one letter of your bird's name on each Footprint.
3. Cut a length of string or thin ribbon long enough to fit each footprint. Make a hanging loop at the top.
4. Glue the footprints to the string and hang.

Dino Name Dangler

1. Print out the baby dinosaur on light colored paper or cardstock and cut out.
2. Print out one Dino Footprint for each letter of your bird's name on light-colored paper or cardstock and cut each one out.
3. Write one letter of your bird's name on each Footprint.
4. Cut a length of string or thin ribbon long enough to fit the baby dino and each footprint. Make a hanging loop at the top.
5. Glue the footprints to the string and hang.
5. Glue the baby dino to the top of a string or ribbon, then glue each footprint below the baby dino spacing the footprints so each letter can be seen.
